SUMMARY OF INFORMATION

The vessel identified as [] will meet a mother ship in the immediate vicinity are of Colon, Panama. See ENCLOSURE 1. The [] will then sail east to a location marked by X (ENCLOSURE 2) and continue in a northerly direction along a course that parallels a latitude of about 78 degrees. During the week of 25 September 1988, it is anticipated the [] will be located east of the North Carolina coast in areas indicated as "X-1" and "X-2" respectively, as if the vessel were heading towards Cape Hatteras off the coast of North Carolina. See ENCLOSURE 3.

Possible subsequent routes of travel are indicated as Norfolk, VA, the Chesapeake Bay, and finally Richmond, VA.

At ENCLOSURE 4, "O" indicates a possible drug storage area as viewed from the starboard side of the vessel; and the "X" indicates a possible storage area as viewed from the port side of the vessel. The drugs are contained in square packages wrapped in brown-pinkish paper and bearing the label phonetically identified as "Joan Bolhvo/Bolvvt/Belvod".

Efforts to determine the identity of the mother ship from which the illegal drugs were off-loaded resulted in the phonetic name of "Fuerta".

(COMMENTS: Efforts to pinpoint the current location of the [] were unsuccessful - the names of Chile and Buenos Aires, Argentina, surfaced but appeared unrelated to the issue).
